Organized by: One Health India Organization, New Delhi with Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar

About the Conference:

"One Health" is an approach that focuses on recognizing the interconnectedness of health issues relating to humans, animals, and the environment and encourages multi-disciplinary approaches to prevention, detection, and response in order to achieve better health outcomes."

One Health Annual Conference (OHC) 2026 will be an interdisciplinary platform where scientists, clinicians, veterinarians, environmentalists, policymakers, industry partners, and young researchers can come together and help the One Health approach move forward. This event will encourage collaboration, innovation and knowledge exchange to tackle the latest issues in the world of human, animal and environmental health.

Special Highlight of the conference:

A Cancer Awareness Walkathon will be held on the morning of 10th October 2026, in collaboration with BBIF Cancer Care and Guru Nanak Dev University. This initiative aims to promote public awareness, early detection, and community engagement in preventive healthcare.

Other Highlights:

- Motivating Keynote Speeches from Renowned Experts
- Scientific Presentations & Panel Discussions
- Collaboration and Interdisciplinary Research
- Genomics, Diagnostic, Vaccine & Digital Innovations
- Policy & Capacity Building

Key Focus Areas:

- Zoonoses & Pandemic Preparedness
- Climate Change & Environmental Health
- Antimicrobial Resistance (AMR)
- Translation Research, Genomics & Biobanking
- Public Health Systems & Community Health
- One Health Policy, Innovation & Sustainability

About Guru Nanak Dev University & Amritsar:

Founded on 24 November 1969 as a tribute to the birth centenary of Sri Guru Nanak Dev Ji, Guru Nanak Dev University (GNDU) at Amritsar is one of the major universities in India that focuses on higher learning, research, and innovations.

Awarded with the highest-grade A++ by NAAC, the University has gained national and international reputation for academic excellence, innovative research, and commitment towards socio-economic development.

A residential and affiliating university, GNDU provides diverse programs in science, technology, health sciences, management, humanities, social sciences, architecture, environment, media, and related areas.

Upholding the eternal principles of truth, empathy, equality, harmony, and universal fraternity of Guru Nanak Dev Ji, the University combines academic excellence with social responsibility.

Welcome to One Health Conference 2026

The One Health Annual Conference 2026 is envisioned as a premier interdisciplinary platform designed to bring together leading experts, researchers, policymakers, and practitioners from the domains of human health, veterinary sciences, environmental sciences, public health, academia, and industry.

In an era marked by increasing emergence of zoonotic diseases, climate change, ecological disruptions, and antimicrobial resistance, the need for an integrated and collaborative approach to health has never been more critical. The conference is built around the One Health paradigm, which recognizes the interconnectedness of human, animal, and environmental health, and promotes coordinated, cross-sectoral solutions to complex global health challenges.

This two-day conference will serve as a dynamic forum for:

- Knowledge exchange through scientific sessions, expert talks, and panel discussions
- Interdisciplinary collaboration among stakeholders across sectors
- Showcasing innovations in diagnostics, genomics, vaccines, and digital health
- Policy dialogue to strengthen governance and implementation frameworks
- Capacity building for researchers, clinicians, and public health professionals

See conference details here

Participants will engage in in-depth discussions and deliberations on key thematic areas, including:

•Zoonotic Diseases & Pandemic Preparedness: Strengthening surveillance systems, early warning mechanisms, and coordinated response strategies to emerging and re-emerging infectious diseases.

•Climate Change & Environmental Health: Understanding the impact of environmental degradation, biodiversity loss, and climate variability on disease patterns and population health.

•Antimicrobial Resistance (AMR): Addressing the growing threat of AMR through stewardship programs, regulatory frameworks, and a One Health approach across human and animal sectors.

•Translational Research, Genomics & Biobanking: Bridging the gap between laboratory research and real-world applications, with emphasis on advanced diagnostics, vaccine development, and biobanking for future preparedness.

•Public Health Systems & Community Implementation: Strengthening health systems, enhancing rural and community healthcare delivery, and promoting awareness and behavioural change at the grassroots level.

By fostering dialogue between science, policy, and practice, the conference aims to generate actionable insights, strategic partnerships, and sustainable solutions that can contribute to strengthening the One Health ecosystem in India and globally.

Organized by: One Health India Organization, New Delhi with Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar

We invite abstract submissions for the One Health Annual Conference 2026, to be held on 9th–10th October 2026 at Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, India. The conference welcomes contributions from a wide range of disciplines reflecting the One Health approach, integrating human, animal, and environmental health. We encourage submission of original research, reviews, case studies, field experiences, innovations, and policy perspectives from academia, healthcare, veterinary sciences, environmental sciences, public health, industry, and community organizations.

Broad Themes for Abstract Submission:

1. Infectious Diseases & Public Health

- Zoonotic and emerging infections
- Pandemic preparedness and response
- Surveillance systems and outbreak investigations
- Vaccination and infectious disease control

See conference details here

2. Environment, Climate & Health

- Climate change and health impacts
- Air, water, and soil quality
- Biodiversity and ecosystem health
- Environmental risk factors and sustainability

3. Antimicrobial Resistance & Infection Control

- AMR in human and animal health
- Antibiotic stewardship practices
- Infection prevention and control
- AMR in agriculture and food systems

4. Biomedical Research & Innovations

- Genomics, diagnostics, and biomarkers
- Vaccine development and therapeutics
- Biobanking and data integration
- Translational and clinical research

5. Health Systems, Policy & Implementation

- Public health systems strengthening
- Health policy, governance, and financing
- Digital health and surveillance technologies
- Implementation research and program evaluation

6. Community Health & Social Dimensions

- Rural and community healthcare models
- Health awareness and behaviour change
- Role of NGOs and grassroots initiatives
- Equity, access, and social determinants of health

See conference details here

7. One Health & Interdisciplinary Approaches

- Human–animal–environment interface studies
- Cross-sector collaborations
- One Health frameworks and models
- Integrated approaches to health challenges

8. Open Category (Highly Encouraged)

Submissions beyond the above themes but relevant to health, environment, or interdisciplinary innovation are welcome.

Submission Guidelines

- Abstracts should be original and relevant
- Word limit: 250–300 words
- Flexible structure (recommended: Background, Methods, Results, Conclusion)
- Submissions from students, early-career professionals, and practitioners are strongly encouraged
- All abstracts will undergo peer review

Presentation Types

- Oral Presentations
- Poster Presentations
- Selected abstracts may be invited for featured talks

Awards & Recognition

- Best Oral Presentation
- Best Poster Presentation

Important Dates:

- Abstract Submission Opens: 1 May 2026
- Submission Deadline: 15 September 2026
- Acceptance Notification: 20 Sept. 2026

See conference details here

Why Submit?

- Showcase your work at a multidisciplinary national platform
- Engage with experts across sectors
- Gain visibility, feedback, and collaboration opportunities
- Contribute to advancing the One Health vision

Awards

Selected abstracts will be considered for:

- Best Oral Presentation Award
