Organized by: One Health India Organization, New Delhi with Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar

About the Conference:

"One Health" is an approach that focuses on recognizing the interconnectedness of health issues relating to humans, animals, and the environment and encourages multi-disciplinary approaches to prevention, detection, and response in order to achieve better health outcomes."

One Health Annual Conference (OHC) 2026 will be an interdisciplinary platform where scientists, clinicians, veterinarians, environmentalists, policymakers, industry partners, and young researchers can come together and help the One Health approach move forward. This event will encourage collaboration, innovation and knowledge exchange to tackle the latest issues in the world of human, animal and environmental health.

Special Highlight of the conference:

A Cancer Awareness Walkathon will be held on the morning of 10th October 2026, in collaboration with BBIF Cancer Care and Guru Nanak Dev University. This initiative aims to promote public awareness, early detection, and community engagement in preventive healthcare.

Other Highlights:

- Motivating Keynote Speeches from Renowned Experts
- Scientific Presentations & Panel Discussions
- Collaboration and Interdisciplinary Research
- Genomics, Diagnostic, Vaccine & Digital Innovations
- Policy & Capacity Building

Welcome to One Health Conference 2026

The One Health Annual Conference 2026 is envisioned as a premier interdisciplinary platform designed to bring together leading experts, researchers, policymakers, and practitioners from the domains of human health, veterinary sciences, environmental sciences, public health, academia, and industry.

In an era marked by increasing emergence of zoonotic diseases, climate change, ecological disruptions, and antimicrobial resistance, the need for an integrated and collaborative approach to health has never been more critical. The conference is built around the One Health paradigm, which recognizes the interconnectedness of human, animal, and environmental health, and promotes coordinated, cross-sectoral solutions to complex global health challenges.

This two-day conference will serve as a dynamic forum for:

- Knowledge exchange through scientific sessions, expert talks, and panel discussions
- Interdisciplinary collaboration among stakeholders across sectors
- Showcasing innovations in diagnostics, genomics, vaccines, and digital health
- Policy dialogue to strengthen governance and implementation frameworks
- Capacity building for researchers, clinicians, and public health professionals

One Health Annual Conference (OHC) - 2026

Date: 9th & 10th October 2026 Email: ohioconferences@gmail.com

Venue: Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, India

Web: www.onehealth-in.org/one-health-conference-2

Organized by: One Health India Organization, New Delhi with Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar

Participants will engage in in-depth discussions and deliberations on key thematic areas, including:

- Zoonotic Diseases & Pandemic Preparedness: Strengthening surveillance systems, early warning mechanisms, and coordinated response strategies to emerging and re-emerging infectious diseases.
- Climate Change & Environmental Health: Understanding the impact of environmental degradation, biodiversity loss, and climate variability on disease patterns and population health.
- Antimicrobial Resistance (AMR): Addressing the growing threat of AMR through stewardship programs, regulatory frameworks, and a One Health approach across human and animal sectors.
- Translational Research, Genomics & Biobanking: Bridging the gap between laboratory research and real-world applications, with emphasis on advanced diagnostics, vaccine development, and biobanking for future preparedness.
- Public Health Systems & Community Implementation: Strengthening health systems, enhancing rural and community healthcare delivery, and promoting awareness and behavioural change at the grassroots level.

By fostering dialogue between science, policy, and practice, the conference aims to generate actionable insights, strategic partnerships, and sustainable solutions that can contribute to strengthening the One Health ecosystem in India and globally.
